

Welcome to FOOL XVII

Everything Old is New again

Welcome one and all to Bryniau Tywynnog's annual hands-on A&S event. We'd like to make some general announcements here. Camp Impeesa has worked very, very hard the last couple of years to improve this site, and it shows. We want to continue to use this site, so please help us be good renters.

This is a DRY site; this means NO alcohol. Staff reserves the right to eject members who fail to abide by this policy.

To help ease the parking issues, please obey the instructions of the parking staff in the high vis vest. Please follow the one-way signs and use the road. Pull off the road into your camping area, if possible. If not, pull to the side to allow others to pass.

NO fire pits! Please use the communal ones marked on the map or your own raised ones that leave no trace.

Please take your garbage and recycling with you. Though there are bins on site, Scouts pays to empty them and have always requested that we take bags with us.

Water is potable; please be respectful of its use. Showers should be short! We are on a well and cistern but will deplete if we are not careful.

ABSOLUTELY do not wash your dishes in the bathroom sinks. The kitchen in Anniki is available for your use. Feel free to use it when classes are not in session.

We provide toilet paper and paper towels. If we are running low or are out, please see Gate, the staff cabin, or any staff member.

Please do not flush paper towels or feminine products down the toilet. This can cause the toilet to back up, and that is a most unpleasant clean-up for staff.

Please field strip all cigarette butts. There is no smoking or vaping allowed in buildings.

Safety

Camp Impeesa is located on 52 acres of fairly rough wilderness. This means that wild animals, coyotes, skunks, ticks, and mosquitoes are a concern to you and your family. Coyotes have been regularly spotted in the area. These animals have been known to attack small animals and children. It is our recommendation that small children are not to be left unsupervised and should not be using the trails without adult supervision. Depending on the weather, ticks and mosquitoes may be present. Please use bug spray and do regular tick checks on yourself, your family, and your friends.

Emotional Support and Service Animals

FOOL and Camp Impeesa have always allowed registered service animals on site. These are dogs that are "individually trained by an organization or person specializing in service dog training to perform a task to assist a person with a need related to their disabilities." You might be familiar with a guide dog for someone who is blind.

However, No pets are allowed on site. This includes dogs, cats, snakes, hedgehogs, llamas, elephants etc. Staff does reserve the rights to all Snails, Monkeys, Wombats, Penguins, and Pandas.

Emotional Support animals are not covered under the AoDA, and we, therefore, classify them as pets.

What the heck is this design I keep seeing?

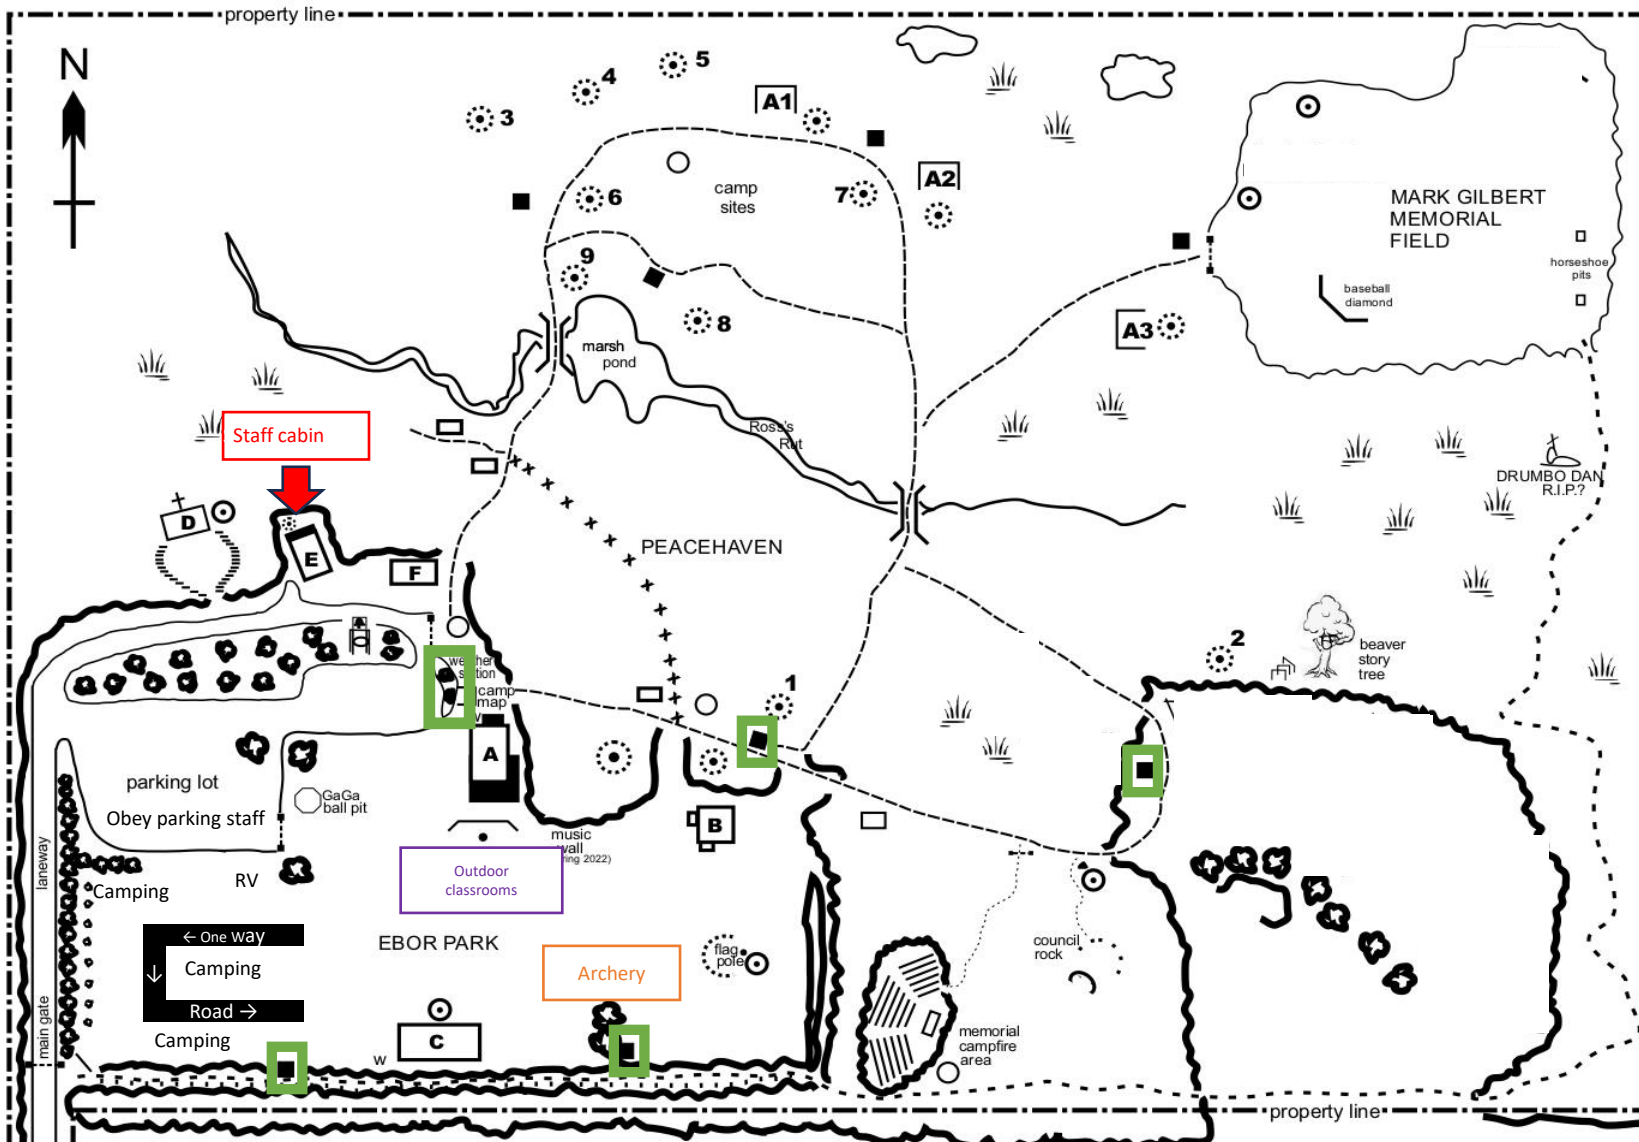

This is the registered badge of FOOL. The charge is called a cresset, and this badge is blazoned as (Fieldless) A cresset gules enflamed Or and argent.

The staff feel it represents a search for knowledge, similar to a lamp.

The base is red for Ealdormere. The gold flames represent FOOL pursuit of mastery of knowledge. The exploration of beginner and journeyman knowledge is represented by the silver flames.
